MOSCOW, April 18.—The three Soviet judges who have presided at the trial of six Britons and 11 Russians on charges of espionage, sabotage and bribery in the Metropolitan-Vickers case retired at 4:17 p. m. today to consider their verdict.

Defendants Speak In Own Defense
Moscow, April 18.—The six British defendants in the Metropolitan-Vickers spy trial were called upon today to speak up in their own defense.

William Lionel MacDonald, who has confessed to various acts of espionage, sabotage and bribery, started the courtroom by taking advantage of this opportunity to reiterate his guilt.

"I have said that I am guilty," he told the court. "I have nothing to add."
Lame since youth, MacDonald then limped back to the prisoner's box. The judge gave him every opportunity to cite extenuating or mitigating circumstances, but he re-

With April only a little more than half gone, more than the normal amount of precipitation for the month has already fallen, and farmers who have not done their spring plowing yet are hopeful that "it ain't gonna rain any more" for a while at least. AMERICANS PREPARE TO FLEE IN WAR ZONE

Japanese Advance Threatens To Over-run Peiping-Tientsin Area

Additional Towns And Villages Are Seized In Japanese Advance

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PEIPING, April 18.—Americans in the Peiping-Tientsin area prepared to flee today as the Japanese-Manchukuo advance south of the Great Wall threatened to over-run the district. Consul General Frank Lockhart was empowered to advise Americans to leave the war zone, scene of extensive British and American interests.

Sweep Southward.
The main force of invaders swept southward along the Peiping-Mukden railway line, converging with other columns on the Luan river and seizing additional towns and villages.

It was stated the advance would continue, unless Chinese forces cease resistance, until Tientsin is taken and the retreating Chinese are driven south of the Luan river. The Japanese already hold Ching-Wang-tao, Changli and Peitaitai.

The Chinese military headquarters is now situated at Luanchow, 30 miles west of Changli on the Luan river.

4000 Chinese Killed.
While the Japanese troops carried the long-expected advance far south of the Great Wall, a survey revealed that 4,000 Chinese soldiers were killed in the campaign during which the Japanese captured and subjugated Jehol Province.

More than 7,000 wounded Chinese soldiers are now in make-shift hospitals in Peiping, while another 3,000 were wounded too severely to be brought here.

Statesmen May Make Proposals For Debt Paying

Expectation Prevails That Both MacDonald And Herriot Will Seek Settlements

ARE ENROUTE TO
U. S. CONFERENCE

Not Unlikely That European Countries Will Make Proposals

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The expectation prevails in administration quarters that both Ramsay MacDonald, the British Prime Minister, and Edouard Herriot, the Ex-Premier of France, will make "jump sum" proposals to the United States next week in the settlement of their respective debts.

If advance notices are borne out, the proposals will follow the Lausanne pattern of "ten cents on the dollar."

Little Consideration
There is scant indication, however, that such proposals, when and if made, will receive any really serious consideration by the administration. Such a settlement would amount to cancellation of 90 per cent of the debts. The Democratic platform, to which President Roosevelt is rigorously adhering, spoke out flatly against debt cancellation. In addition, Congress could be counted upon to oppose such a settlement almost unanimously.

Administration leaders frankly hope to subordinate the debts issue to what they deem of more importance, the lowering of tariff barriers and the removal of other artificial restrictions on world trade. They believe, Secretary of State Hull in particular, that once these barriers are removed, and once international trade is flowing as in the days before the economic collapse, the debts will take care of themselves. In this connection, they point out that none of the debtors found their burden particularly onerous before the crash.

An industrious band of over 150 volunteer workers, assigned to four different divisions for competitive reasons, will rally at the Y. M. C. A. tonight to launch a year-day drive to win 1,000 new members for the association. Dinner will be served the campaigners at 6:15 o'clock sharp.

General Chairman Fred L. Rentz will address the workers at the close of the banquet, General Secretary R. L. Meermans, who for weeks has guided preliminary preparations, announced.

Perhaps never in the Y's history has a campaign's advance planning been so strenuous or executed with the diligence which this year's has, and Y officials were inclined today to point to the remarkable planning as an omen predicting the drive's success.

Introduced into the campaign set-up this spring is a new women and girls' section, a new feature of Y. M. C. A. membership drives. The section was created as a result of the Y's inauguration last year of women and girls' swimming classes, the attendants of which will comprise the workers.

WALKER 53 YEARS

Ceremony Is Performed Today In Strict Secrecy By Mayor Of French Town

(International News Service)
CANNES, France, April 18.—A Broadway romance that shifted from New York to France and survived turbulent political difficulties culminated today in the marriage of James J. Walker and Betty Compton at the Cannes City Hall.

Announcement of the marriage was made by Dr. Cazagnaire, who announced he had married the former New York mayor and Miss Compton, former musical comedy actress, at 11:15 a. m. (Paris time).

The ceremony took place at the City Hall despite the fact Walker had requested it be held at Miss Compton's villa, the Beau Geste, in order to avoid publicity.

Strict Secrecy
In strict secrecy, Walker and Miss Compton entered the building by the back door and went directly to the mayor's office, where he performed the ceremony.

It was the dapper ex-mayor's second adventure in matrimony, and the third for his bride.

The official banns for their marriage were posted in the Cannes City Hall, as required by French law, on April 4, shortly after Mrs. Janet Walker obtained her Florida divorce on grounds of desertion.

At that time Walker gave his age as 53 and his occupation as a lawyer, while his fiancée described herself as 28 and unemployed.

Witnesses at the wedding were Alfred Sharon Walker's lawyer, Dr. Joseph Fisher, his physician, and M. Martinez, proprietor of the Martinez hotel, where Walker has been staying.

Attorneys Declare Reprieve Necessary To Complete Sanity Trial

MRS. JUDD BREAKS
OUT IN SCREAMS

(International News Service)
FLORENCE, Ariz., April 18.—With Winnie Ruth Judd, "trunk murderer" under sentence to be hanged Friday, her attorneys in their legal race with death today formally petitioned the State Pardon Board to grant an additional reprieve until May 13 in order that the present sanity trial can be completed.

Meanwhile concern was felt over reports that the other 800 convicts in the prison were "uneasy and restless" over the case.

If the trial is not finished by Friday it is mandatory upon Warden A. G. Walker to hang Mrs. Judd, and Mrs. Judd's attorneys pointed out that the trial was moving so slowly it would not be possible to hear all witnesses before the execution date.

In event the jury by a 9-3 vote should find Mrs. Judd sane her attorneys had made arrangements to carry her case to the United States supreme court provided the reprieve is granted. Attorney O. V. Wilson declared, "If found insane, Mrs. Judd will be committed to the State hospital for the insane at Phoenix."

Mrs. Judd was convicted of killing Mrs. Agnes Anne Lerol. The bodies of Mrs. Lerol and of Hedvig Samuelson were dismembered and shipped in trunks from Phoenix to Los Angeles in October, 1931.

The third day of her trial was halted temporarily late yesterday when Mrs. Judd suddenly burst into screams and cries of "stop tormenting me—you're all crazier than I am," and had to be carried from the court room and quieted by prison officials.

Pinchot Utility Bill In Senate

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 18.—On the heels of Gov. Gifford Pinchot's demand for more rigid supervision of public service companies, Senator Benjamin H. Thompson, Westmoreland, today introduced the administration's Utility Bill.

The bill, intended to supplant the McClure omnibus utility measure awaiting final action in the house, was referred to the judiciary general committee. It provides for strict regulations which Governor Pinchot claims is necessary to prevent a condition in Pennsylvania similar to the "Insull Collapse."

Introduction of the bill sounded the keynote for what is expected to be another fight between the governor and the Republican state organization. The governor's insistence that his recommendations must be adopted was regarded as assurance he would veto the McClure Bill.

His address before the senate last night termed the latter piece of legislation insufficient to provide the public service commission with the power necessary to obtain rigid control over the utilities.

SENATE PONDER'S PINCHOT'S UTILITY PLEAS

Governor Urges Utility Action

Turns Upon Dr. King, Chairman Of Public Service Commission

DEMANDS APPROVAL OF HIS APPOINTEES

New Utility Regulation Bill Is To Be Presented To State Legislature

HARRISBURG, April 18.—A declaration that his four public service commissioners must be confirmed to assure the people of Pennsylvania justifiable utility rates was left with the Senate today by Governor Gifford Pinchot, avowed foe of utility concerns.

In a belated address on his favorite subject, the governor reiterated his demand for the immediate return of the nomination of Dr. Clyde L. King, commission chairman. An administration utility bill, different in many respects from that sponsored by Senator John J. McClure, Delaware, was to be introduced today.

The extent of the governor's break with Dr. King, former political ally and close friend, was significantly shown in the request for immediate confirmation of commissioners P. S. Stahlnecker, C. J. Goodnough, George W. Woodruff, and Frederick P. Gruenberg.

Would Dissolve King

"I speak the mind of the people when I say that the political plot which is represented by this delay is wholly disreputable and without excuse," the executive asserted. As for Dr. King, whose "change of front has made him unfit for his present post," the governor insisted upon a return of the nomination "in order that I may substitute for it the nomination of a man of whose devotion to the public interests there can be no question." He criticized the Senate for not extending the courtesy of a reply to his first request.

The administration utility bill is designed to give the commission effective control over Public Service companies, which "could have prevented the insular crash." It would give the commission direct and complete supervision of the issuance of utility securities; prevent utilities from increasing their rates until and unless such increases were first approved by the commission; and would permit a financial return to consumers who have been overcharged.

Full Time Job

The bill also would require each commissioner to devote his entire time to the duties of his office and would limit charters and franchises to 50 years.

"Unless we have regulation that really regulates, the people will rise up and demand public ownership of utilities," the governor predicted.

Governor Pinchot also declared "the investigation and disclosure of relations between utilities and members of the public service commission must be carried through to a finish."

During the last two years a lot of people who thought they were independent of the rest of the world and of all other people have found out differently. This may be one of the good lessons of bad times.

BEER CONTROL BILL IS READY FOR GOVERNOR

powers judges to issue licenses. Originally he recommended that the department of revenue receive this power, and later agreed to vest the issuance in county treasurers. The tax fixed in the bill is $1.24 per barrel.

Adopted By House
Harrisburg, April 18.—The conference report on the Sowers-Conner beer control bill was adopted by the house at 1:30 o'clock this morning by a vote of 106 to 92. Two votes more than a constitutional majority.

If the report is adopted by the senate it will go to Gov. Gifford Pinchot, who has already given notice that the measure as drafted will not be approved.

Not Amended
Contrary to declarations of Rep. C. A. Sowers, Philadelphia, co-sponsor of the bill and member of the conference committee on the part of the house, that the report would be withdrawn and amended, the Philadelphia called up the report for final action soon after midnight. The measure as now drafted provides that the courts of quarter sessions shall have the power to grant licenses, a provision which Sowers, since last week, had told newspapermen would be stricken out and the power conferred on county treasurers in conformity with a suggestion advanced by Governor Pinchot and Attorney General William A. Schnader.

Oppose Bill
Rep. Caputo, Beaver, is opposing adoption of the conference report, declared the measure to be a direct attempt to deprive the state from gaining revenue. Rep. Andrews, Cambria, charged that the bill should be known as a "bootlegging and illicit traffic in beer" measure, adding that under its provisions there is no way of knowing who has paid a tax and who has evaded the tax. He, like Caputo charged that adoption of the report only tended to lengthen the time in which the state would be without revenue from the sale of the 3.2 beverage.

Judges Unwilling
Representative Quinn, Allegheny, speaking for a majority of the Democrats in the house, held that 27 judges in Pennsylvania had expressed an unwillingness to handle licenses.

Philadelphia members, Grundy members and members of the state Republican organization joined forces in adopting the report over the opposition of the Democrats and members from the rural counties. It was generally conceded that some votes were cast for the measure in an effort to speed it on its way to the governor's office to be met by the veto pen.

Delay Final Beer Bill
Under the provisions of the report adopted early today, the tax on beer is fixed at $1.24 per barrel or at the rate of one half cent on a bottle. The tax would be collected from the brewer and from the distributors. Brewery licenses would be granted by the state treasurer while wholesale and retail sellers would be licensed by the court of quarter sessions and the fees paid into the county treasury. The tax on beer would be paid into the state treasury and would be used for next two years after which a distribution of the funds would be made to the state, counties and municipalities.

Action of the house in passing the Sowers-Conner bill is taken as an indication that an agreeable beer control and revenue bill will be one of the last things to appear at the present session of the legislature. Bills submitted by the administration remain in the hands of the house committee on ways and means and if they are returned to the house they will contain numerous amendments.

Dentists Plan School Clinic

Committee Named To Take Proposition Up With School Board

DENTISTS WOULD VOLUNTEER SERVICE

Realizing the necessity for economy in the school board, but at the same time alive to the value of dental clinics in the schools, plans are under way by the New Castle Dental Society whereby such clinics may be established in the schools next year without cost to the taxpayers. The plan was developed Monday night at the meeting of the New Castle Dental Society and a committee consisting of Dr. W. L. Beal, chairman; Drs. B. C. Gilmore, H. A. Frank and J. A. Meahan appointed to work out the details.

For many years the dental clinics in the New Castle Schools have been a part of the health program. A school dentist has been employed and two Dental Hygienists have aided him in the work of examination of teeth, making extractions and deciduous fillings. In this way thousands of children have been benefited and the Dental Society feels that such a work should not be allowed to die.

Volunteer Service

Under the plan advanced by the Dental Society, the society would keep the three school clinics open and the dental services would be given by members, as volunteers. There would be no expense to the school board and the work could continue as it has. The committee appointed will take the matter up with the New Castle School Board at the next regular meeting of the board.

The meeting of the Dental Society Monday night was held in Dr. John McConahy's office. Thirty members were present and the evening divided into two periods, one of business and the other social. Two guests were present, Dr. H. E. Grant and Dr. Don Kelch. The prize winners in the card competition were Dr. Lee Hamilton high and Dr. Philip Campbell low. The president, Dr. P. Campbell, presided at the business meeting.

The secretary's report on the County Dental Relief work was read and discussed with a committee of three being appointed to confer with the county commissioners as to the plan and spreading of the work among the various members of the society. The committee is headed by Dr. M. P. McCann with Drs. A. G. Reynolds and L. W. Hamilton assisting. Reports were given by Dr. C. M. Booner on Dr. A. G. City School clinics and by Dr. A. G. Reynolds on the clinic operated in the rural schools maintained by the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis Society, by Dr. A. G. Reynolds.

Plans were made for a large meeting near the middle of May with the guests of the local dentists. A golf tournament will be held in the afternoon with a dinner following and a scientific meeting with Dr. A. G. Houdensfield of the University of Pittsburgh as Clinician.

The committee in charge of the plans includes Dr. John C. McConahy, chairman and Drs. William P. Kelch, W. W. Horner and J. L. Reed.

To Open Railway

Tokyo, April 18.—The 108-mile Tunghwa-Tumen River railroad, of great strategic importance to Japan in the event of war with Russia, will be opened to traffic in August, it was announced today. NEGRO FACES CHARGE

William Young, Negro, who was severely cut a few days ago by Arturo Gonzalez, Porto Rican, his cellmate, whom he is alleged to have rolled in the Moravia street district, and took his money from him, was able to return to the city jail from the New Castle Hospital today. Shortly after his arrival he was taken to the Central fire department where a charge of highway robbery was made against him. Gonzalez is also being held as a material witness in the case.

Uncle Sam is still expecting additional debt payment in June which again proves the old saying that hope springs eternal in the human breast.

TALK OF FAR EAST GIVEN AT CLUB MEET

"The Japanese cannot understand the attitude of the United States," said Miss Elizabeth Lee of Pittsburgh as she spoke before the members of the Woman's Club Monday in Highland church.

The regular meeting of the Woman's club members was held with Mrs. E. F. G. Harper in the chair. Plans were made for attending the Northwestern Convention being held in the Hotel Schenley, Pittsburgh, today.

Mrs. Archibald H. Davis, Jr., introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Miss Lee, who taught for a number of years in a school in Japan, and traveled extensively through the far east.

Miss Lee said, in speaking of the Japanese people, that they are not all militarists, but she said this nation has only been civilized for a few years and we expect more from them than we should. She says everything is in a state of turmoil in the country, the oriental mixed with the occidental, the modern with the ancient; it is a country of vast contrasts.

The country was opened with cannon-balls and the United States, then what the Japanese mind cannot grasp, the doors of the United States were closed against the Japs and they cannot figure out the situation.

"The situation of Japan today is unique and pathetic," said Miss Lee, and in viewing them she asked that the people of the United States look on with leniency, not prejudice, for the majority of the Japanese are not militarists, but it is the minority which has done wrong.

CLUB ENJOYS HIKE
Members of the Good Will Graduate club met at the Y. W. C. A. Monday and left for a hike to the country district near the Harbor bridge. Although not a large number of the members took part in the event, it was a merry one and greatly enjoyed. They took their lunches along and made coffee at the spot where they stopped.

CONTROLLING DRUG TRAFFIC

ONE of the encouraging bits of news from abroad is the recent dispatch that 26 nations have finally ratified the international convention under which the League of Nations will be able to control world manufacture and distribution of narcotics.

Under this scheme, a board established by the league will set strict limits on the amount of narcotics which each nation will be allowed to produce and distribute. This is something new in world affairs, for the plan doubtless is an infringement upon the national sovereignty of the countries involved—of which the United States is one.

It represents—partly for this reason—a great forward step. Until the world supply of narcotics is put under definite control, no nation can handle the illicit trade within its borders in an effective manner. A splendid new implement has been put in the hands of those who are waging unceasing war on the curse of drugs.

GETTING OUT OF THE RUT

It is quite a time since the papers have contained any better reading than those stories telling about the new recruits in President Roosevelt's "Conservation Corps" and the attitude which they are displaying in their new calling.

One such lad, who has been out of a job ever since he left high school, and whose father had also been out of work for two years, expressed himself as follows:

"It isn't the job. It isn't money. It's getting away from the dreary rut. We couldn't do anything. We can't go out with friends with no money. We can't go out with girls without money."

"For a year I just sat around. It wasn't good for my body or my mind. Getting out in the air away from failure will let me come back with all bets off. I can start all over again."

Somehow it does one a lot of good to read that.

CANADIAN RECIPROCITY THEN AND NOW

Mention of Canada in present plans for tariff reciprocity with the United States recalls that it was a Democrat who buried a similar program under a Republican administration. President Taft had set his heart on reciprocity with the Dominion. An unfortunate remark by Champ Clark about "annexation" frightened the Canadian people and they promptly rejected the party in power at Ottawa, which had given assent to the preliminary overtures.

The Republican party has no jester at Washington now to play Champ Clark's part. If George H. Moses of New Hampshire were still in the senate he might be tempted to essay it. But today all the wild cards in the political deck are Democrats, with Huey Long the joker.

THAT FAMILY FOOD BILL

Home economics experts recently worked out an interesting new angle on the food supply budget for a family, presenting their information in a strikingly different way.

Figuring that the average family consists of two adults and three children, they estimate that during a year this average group would consume the following amounts of foodstuffs:

One hundred chickens, 1,456 quarts of milk, 2,600 eggs, 260 pounds of butter, 650 pounds of fresh meat, 174 pounds of leafy vegetables, 234 pounds of fresh tomatoes, 65 heads of lettuce, 108 quarts of canned tomatoes, 303 pounds of other fresh vegetables, 10 bushels of potatoes, 12 bushels of fresh fruit and 180 quarts of canned fruit.

It does seem like a lot of food when you add it up that way. But it shows what a tremendous job it is to feed a family—and how far short some of our unemployed families are falling of real sustenance in these depression days.

FORESTRY CAMPS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Under the Roosevelt conservation program the Allegheny National Forest will receive the first five camps allotted to Pennsylvania. The sites are in the four northwestern counties of Elk, Forest, McKean and Warren, with drainage toward the Allegheny River.

In the Allegheny Forest the immediate undertaking will probably be the clearance of underbrush, the planting of trees on marginal lands and measures to check further soil erosion. The reclamation of river bottoms for agriculture seems hardly practical in view of the distance from markets.

BEDS, SOFT AND HARD

Scientists have come to the conclusion through laboratory tests that for the grain worker six hours sleep on a downy couch is better than eight hours on a hard pallet. A hard bed in eight hours builds less energy than a soft bed can in six hours.

The tests also tend to show that the brain works more efficiently but utilizes more energy if two hours are cut from the normal sleep period. In the light of the discovered relation of the soft bed to the number of hours of sleep one requires, it is presumed that a soft bed was used to make the latter test.

Perhaps the professors are right in their deductions, but the laity will have difficulty in reconciling these scientific discoveries with the fact every body has learned by "hard" experience that those accustomed to a hard bed find as great if not greater difficulty in adapting themselves to plying spring and downy mattress than those born to a soft bed find in habituating themselves to a hard couch.

Who has not returned to his own soft bed after many nights sound slumber on the body-bruising ground or strange unyielding beds and awakened the next morning feeling physically sore and mentally weary all because of being unaccustomed to a soft place to sleep?

Let us hope that nature is not sending us rain now that will be more needed next summer.

JUST LIKE A MAN

When I was growing up I was told that it was bad manners to put my elbows on the table. . . I didn't know why. . . I tell my children now that it is bad manners for them to put their elbows on the table. . . I still don't know why.

I asked a small boy whether he was ever spanked and he said yes, when he was bad. I asked him whether he deserved to be spanked when he was bad, and he said yes, of course he did—it was good for him. Sometimes, he said, a fellow can't stop being bad until he gets a good spanking.

I don't know whether these are a child's ideas about spanking or whether they are put into children by their parents. Coventry Patmore, the English poet, struck his little girl and wrote a touching poem about the incident. We should, to know the entire truth, have a poem also by Patmore's daughter.

We must learn, said a man, to be good losers. . . Perhaps, but it is far more pleasant learning to be good winners. . .

Does human nature change? I think it does. Everything else changes, why shouldn't human nature? But do people change? That's another matter. Look back to the people you knew when you and they were young. Think of them as they are now. Observe how much they have changed. In nine out of ten cases they show the same characteristics now that they showed then. That's encouraging, but it can also be very depressing.

One woman did something and another woman said, "Isn't that just like a woman."

I know a few things that are "just like a man." All men know them, and most women know them because part of their business is to watch men and to become authorities on their conduct—just as it is man's business to learn about women. And I could make a list of actions that, according to the men, are "just like a woman." But what are the things that a woman thinks are "just like a woman?"

COMPLAINTS

The complaint that you make to an employer about one of his employees may have a very serious effect.

Before you do anything of this sort consider it well. If the grievance is personal, suggested by your own dislike, you have no right to make any complaint whatever.

If the worker is disloyal to his employer, has deliberately done something harmful to the business there may be some excuse for reporting him.

To lose a job today is a serious matter and you should give an employee a chance to abandon a course damaging to his employer, before reporting him.

Some men, comparatively secure in their jobs, give little thought to how insecure another person's place may be.

Becoming peeved at an employee, their first decision is to inform his superior and sad to say it, such complaints are liable to be exaggerated.

Often the position, to which there was objection, as taken by the employee, is in accord with instructions given by the superior.

Employees are there to serve—not to dictate or change policies. The employee may be insistent upon carrying out explicit regulations and rules and the irascible individual considers it an imperiousness, while the one making the complaint is the one who is unreasonable.

A GENTLEMAN SNORING

We'd sat in the smoker and chattered awhile. Of the troubles besetting the nation today.

And then as we walked through the green curtains aisle. We heard a loud snore from a man tucked away.

And I said to my friend: "Although mighty banks fall, There's one chap at least, who's not worried at all!"

We'd talked of our losses: our bank accounts gone: Bewailed the depression in moments of gloom.

We'd recited our troubles (and who now has none?) And filled with forebodings that small Pullman room.

But I chuckled to think as I snored lower four, The world is all right for the chap who can snore.

That man may have burdens of sorrow to bear. His bank may have told he can't have a cent;

But just at this moment his prospects are fair. He may wake up to worry, but now he's content!

When a man snores like that in the dead of the night, For eight hours at least everything is all right.

Mr. Fred L. Rantz, Manager News, New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir: I have for a great many years, been a constant reader of your valued paper, and have had it in mind, frequently, to write you and express my appreciation of the kind of newspaper which you print, but always, something has intervened to prevent.

However at the meeting of our Board of Trade, which was held at our City Building yesterday, some mention was made of an article a few weeks ago written by your editor, Mr. Bulger, on the Muscles Shoals development on the Tennessee, in which Mr. Bulger, in plain and homely language which anybody could understand, presented some startling figures.

He showed that this state is being loaded down with Federal taxes, most of which go to help other states in which we have no particular interest, and the members present at the above stated meeting expressed the desire that Mr. Bulger be asked to address our body, or at least to continue his analysis of the situation.

We have all read with much interest, for many years, the articles from the pen of Mr. Bulger, and while some have felt that the orthography is a trifle crude, nevertheless, all agree that he has a keen method of analysis which is frequently too sadly missing from the productions of more polished minds.

Will you therefore, kindly remember the writer to Mr. Bulger, and indicate to him that a further discussion of these tax matters would be much appreciated.

Very sincerely, O. L. DEGGS.

Bargaining Between Nations
Forecast For World Parley

President Roosevelt's Success At Home Expected To Make Preliminary Conference With Representatives Of Eleven Nations Of Great Value

New leadership for President Roosevelt is observed by the public through the conversations with representative of 11 nations in Washington. The conference is preliminary to the more formal world economic gathering, and it is predicted that much attention will be given to existing tariffs. It is generally believed that the key to widespread depression will be found in the policy of "give and take."

"The scope and bold sweep of the project are the best hope of important things," says the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR, believing that "together they can straighten things out." The NEWARK EVENING NEWS calls it "an immense and hopeful thing," with the reservation that "the only danger is that, in an endeavor to give fair play to everybody, the multiplicity of issues will bog down the conference. The NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PIAYUNE finds it fortunate that European governments "perceive both the wisdom and the need of these advance parleys," and that "they sincerely desire an international agreement," while the OAKLAND TRIBUNE observes that "it is agreed that the forces of depression must be considered as a whole, that their aspects are worldwide, and that a conference of the leading nations at this time may be of large service."

"The New Deal has spread its wings," it has extended its activities to the domain of international relations," declares the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, voicing the hope of the American people that "their president's initiative will bear prompt and effective fruit," and the belief that "this move, Rooseveltian and dramatic, undoubtedly will have behind it as whole-hearted national support as his constructive domestic programs have evoked." The OMAHA WORLD-HERALD holds that "it is such leadership that is restoring hope to the world, and making faint hearts strong," while the BUTTE

MONTANA STANDARD appraises his broad program as "involving world cooperation to a degree never before attained by the leading nations," and as raising "the hopes of millions of people in this country and abroad." The CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER remarks that "ROOSEVELTIAN directness, already familiar in the field of domestic concerns, is thus applied to the solution of questions which worry the world."

"A process of give and take" as applied to tariff matters is welcomed by the BALTIMORE SUN with the thought that it "involves no loss of national independence but rather great gain in national welfare," a view which is expressed also by the ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS. The ATLANTA JOURNAL offers the estimate: "The new administration minces no words in saying at home that our foreign trade policy is no better than junk, the obsolete instrument of a dead economic order; nor in saying abroad that we propose to bargain with our customers for a new deal. We want them to buy from us; therefore we are ready to make it easy for them to sell to us. We stand for reciprocity, which is the restoring as well as vitalizing factor in trade. We have ceased mere professions and are getting down to work." Indorsement of tariff prospects is given also by the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION, and the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS and the CLEVELAND NEWS.

If the conference will resolve itself into a program of getting together as barterers of merchandise essential to the people of the nations," says the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, "then we shall be progressing toward a permanent objective. Our exports are worth dollars while our war debts are not worth the turmoil required to collect the installments. If the conferees will hold round-table discussions on tar-

Great disasters, like earthquakes, bring out the qualities of the human in very marked ways.

In Los Angeles on the Friday evening of March 10th, four men were busily engaged on the tenth floor of a certain business block. Two of them were the Cashier and the assistant Cashier. The other two characters in this little drama were two policemen.

The Cashier and his assistant were making up the company's payroll. The policemen were on guard. $60,000.00 in cash was on the counter. How the concern happened to have $60,000.00 in cash on March 10th, is another story.

When the floor beneath the four men began to rock and the building away, the two policemen, with blanched faces, disappeared. The Cashier also started to leave. At the door of his cage he stopped for a moment and said to the younger man: "Come on, we have got to get out of here. We must save our lives."

"We must put this money back in the safe before we leave no matter what happens. Help me do it." For a moment the older man hesitated and then he came back. The money was put away. The two men closed the safe, locked the cage and hurriedly left the building.

The older man: "I am ashamed of myself. You had your experience under fire in France and to you the shaking of buildings just now, is only an incident. It was my

French Artist Who Gained World Fame With Nude Painting Keeps Secret

Real Name Of Model Never Disclosed; Is Now Wedded To Rich Industrialist

By WILLIAM PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, April 18.—Miss "September Morn," the lissom lass who posed for the world-famous painting of that name, has grown up, settled down, and become the mother of five strapping children, International News Service learned Monday.

The oft-repeated query as to what happened to the lady whose replica made its appearance in salons, saloons, and later in speak-easies during the last quarter of a century, was answered by Paul Chabas, the artist who immortalized her on canvas.

Wed To Rich Man
Chabas, interviewed in his Paris atelier, refused to reveal the model's name. No one, he said, ever will know who she was. He referred to her simply as "Marthe."

"Marthe," he said, "is the wife of a rich industrialist. She has a house in the country and one in Paris and is the mother of five children."

"Well, it was a long time ago—21 years to be exact—when I painted September Morn. If it were not that the painting indirectly made me famous and brought me a life of comfort, I would say it was the bane of my existence."

"Marthe was only 16, a beautiful child and intelligent. She was very poor, and she had to support her mother. My wife and I were very fond of her. She was almost like our daughter."

Original Is Lost
Chabas said he had no idea where the original of the famous painting is at present.

It was first sold he said, "To a Russian oil magnate. After the revolution he fled to Paris."

"Hardly a week passes but that I hear where the original of the picture is supposed to be hanging. Some people say it is in an American museum. A Monsieur Russell has written me from Chillicothe, Ohio, wanting to sell me the original."

"But I do not believe he has it. I do not know where it is."

Chabas stated he wanted the world to believe that "Marthe," despite the aspersions cast upon her by various anti-vice societies for permitting herself to be popularized in minus clothing, was a good girl.

"Tell people," the artist said, "that Marthe was a very good child and is now a very good wife and mother."

DICK COOK OPPOSES MOVE.

Editor The News,

Dear Sir:—

With your permission I would like to use a little of the space in The News. I would like the opportunity of expressing myself as being strictly opposed to the taking over of Cascade Park as a civic enterprise. We have parks enough and to spare already and about all that the taxpayers can take care of, without adding to our troubles by attempting to operate Cascade Park. Nobody with an automobile would go there and the most of the others do not have money enough to even use the street cars to get there.

Speaking of ship canals and that proposed on the Beaver and Mahoning rivers, it looks to me as if we need some activity in getting some works to employ our people and make products to ship on a canal, before we get a canal. What we need here is a few more men like William Patterson and George Greer. New Castle boomed when they were alive and did things worthwhile for New Castle.

As there appear to be some few people around here, who question my right to speak on these questions, even suggesting that perhaps, I am not an American citizen, I would like to say for their benefit that I was born in Riceville, Crawford Co., Pa., February 8, 1887, which makes me, if I can still count right, a little over seventy-six years of age. And I and my people before me have been residents of the country all our lives. I guess that makes us American citizens, all right.

Yours truly,
J. DICK COOK.
BUYING CASCADE PARK
701 Chestnut Street,
New Castle, Pa.

Editor,
New Castle News

Dear Sir:—

May I have space in The News in regard to buying Cascade park, also in reference to a letter on the subject in an earlier issue of the paper.

I think the city should buy the park. The civic clubs and citizens should get together and raise the money if necessary.

The letter states by the closing in of the pavilion and location of the swimming pool the owners had spoiled it which may appear to be the cause.

The real cause I would say, were the owners of the park, not to close the amusements on the Sabbath day, when voiced by a representative body of citizens.

Apparently the owners would now destroy property and investments of some citizens located in the park that may never have favored Sunday operation of the amusements to gain favor to their plans at this time.

I say let us have the park at its present value, also let us have the amusements six days of the week.

There is an electric bill of approximately $1,000 a month and other expenses that must be considered before any purchase should be made.

Would it not be a fair plan to every one to have the offer and other information placed in our paper. A majority of our people in this city would think depend on The News for protection from exploitation in tax matters at this time.

The owners appear to have told their plans to many of the clubs yet have failed to furnish any information to our paper so far. Let us have all the facts on this subject so a fair consideration of the matter will enable the people to form an unbiased opinion on the purpose or lease of the park.

"America stands to gain largely if the president's policy succeeds," in the opinion of the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL, the OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES, the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL and the HOUSTON CHRONICLE. The incidental fact that President Roosevelt emerges as a world leader is emphasized by the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST and the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, while the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER voices the judgment that "one circumstance which indicates success for the Roosevelt rehabilitation plan is that the United States and Great Britain are to take the lead."

The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL describes Premier MacDonald of Great Britain as "a figure of great influence in world affairs, a statesman of real quality and dignity," and one who faces with ability "the controversies and emergencies that throng about him."

The ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC sees "advantages in the formal exchange of views prior to the London conference," asserts: "It is the newer diplomacy, and there is little question but that peoples of the world have a great deal more confidence in it than in the older form where intrigue and selfish maneuvering played so large a part."

Referring to the influence of the British premier, the NEW YORK Sun states that "no other in that position in our time has been so able and willing as he to leave Downing street in the care of others and carry his message to foreign lands."

"The key to permanent betterment lies abroad," in the opinion of the BIRMINGHAM AGE-HERALD, while the INDIANAPOLIS NEWS feels that if the European powers find that the United States will exchange debt adjustments for trade advantages, the president may have chosen the right time to prepare for the London conference."

The ROCK ISLAND ARGUS suggests that "he might ask congress for authority to make some sort of a bargain."

Highway Patrol Is Subjected To Attack On Radio

Prosecution By State Revenue Department And Probe By Police May Follow

(International News Service)
CHARLESTON, Pa., April 18.—Possible prosecution by the State Revenue Department and a probe by state police into alleged "unwarranted" attacks on the Pennsylvania Highway Patrol by a radio station announcer were awaited here today.

Although a report on the case was reported to have been made to patrol headquarters at Harrisburg, officials there told International News Service no report had been received.

According to radio fans the station broadcast a statement intimating a member of the patrol was "working hand-in-hand" with a McKeesport magistrate in handling motor code violation cases.

Corporal J. V. Hoover, in charge of the new Eagle detachment of the highway patrol, said the alleged broadcast attack was "too ludicrous to consider as true, but far too serious to overlook."

Explode Myth Of Queen Isabella Giving Up Gems

Historians Find That Christopher Columbus Did Not Get Help From Queen

Bank Of St. George Of Genoa Financed Trip Of Columbus To America

By GUGLIELMO EMANUEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, April 18.—Queen Isabella of Spain, heroine of many a history textbook as the one woman who had faith in Christopher Columbus' assertions the world was round and as the one who financed the voyage on which he discovered America, really deserves no such honor.

Reprints of the history of the bank of St. George, of Genoa, Monday tended to prove that this bank, the most important in the world in the fifteenth century, financed Columbus' discovery of America, and not the proud Isabella.

With the same brutality and utter disregard of the tomes of history with which the City of Verona only last week shattered the Romeo and Juliet story, historians have unearthed and made public documents showing this famous old bank put the money on the line for the Italian the world believed mad.

Bank Accounts Found
They have found his accounts with the bank, and a letter he wrote to its directors from Seville, Spain, in 1502 in connection with the trip he had made ten years earlier. Columbus' father, a woolen merchant, also had accounts with the bank.

The bank of St. George is one of the oldest institutions in existence, having started business in 1252. Among its clients whose business records are kept in its archives were King Henry V of England, Alfonso of Aragon, forerunner of Ex-King Alfonso of Spain, Mahomet II, the "Grand Turk," Pope John XIII, Maximilian, king and emperor and Henry IV of France.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 18.—Senate opponents of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty today resumed their tactics of delay against the joint resolution allocating to New York state one-half of the hydro-electric power resources of the international rapids section in return for $50,000,000.

By holding up action on the resolution they hoped to impress on administration leaders the undesirability of seeking senate ratification of the treaty itself at the special session.

fused everything except his new and abject admission of guilt.
"I Am Not Guilty"

Next came John Cushman, who was branded by Andrey Vyshinsky, the prosecutor, as a daring "spy."

"After hearing the very able defense put up by my counsel," he said, "there is really very little left for me to say."

"He has torn to shreds the flimsy fabric created by the public prosecutor. I have said I am not guilty. There has not been a shred of real evidence brought forth against me. Whatever the verdict, I shall leave this court an honest man, as I came into it."

Russian spectators in the courtroom/greeted this assertion with loud laughter.
Allan Monkhouse, Russian manager for Metropolitan-Vickers, Ltd., gave voice to many things which were left unsaid during the course of the trial, challenging the court to show why he, as a British engineer and employee of the firm, should wreck the industry his organization was building up for its own financial gain.

Attitude Surprises
After denying charges of espionage and sabotage, Monkhouse said: "In pressing the charge of wrecking, the public prosecutor surprised me very much by taking the attitude that my company and the Soviet government are opposed to each other."

"That is not so and cannot be so. I ask the court to remember that the Soviet government at present owes our company 15,000,000 gold rubles ($7,500,000). We had hoped to get more orders."

"What I want understood is that it would be cutting our own throats to engage in any activities which would destroy or lessen the capacity of the Soviet government to pay."

"I have been very proud during the last eight years to take part in the enormous development of electrification in this country. I have been very proud of my associations."

Difficult To Understand
"I have done everything possible I could to help the work. Therefore it is quite difficult to understand how I could be associated with wrecking that work."

"As regards espionage, the only serious evidence against me is a document signed by Thornton (W. Thornton, another of the British defendants) whom I have known for 22 years. I am perfectly certain he could not have signed a document like that."

"That document contains the names of 27 persons, all of whom are accused by him of being members of a spy organization. One of these men has confessed that he was associated with Thornton. Four have not and I am perfectly certain the remaining 22 would deny such associations also."

Proclaim Innocence
Calmly and firmly, Thornton then insisted upon his innocence.
"I pleaded not guilty and I still plead not guilty," he said. "I assert that the evidence brought against me is unsatisfactory. That is all."

Charles Nordvall came next: "It was very painful for me to listen to the prosecutor," he said. "I am interested only in my work and invariably try to do my best."

"I have always supported the Soviet's building plans and helped them in every way I could. My private life has been lived solely in connection with my work and my family.

"I have always been a friend of the Soviet Union and I think the court has documentary evidence to this effect. I feel sure that in view of the evidence the judges can pass only one verdict—not guilty. At this moment I am still a friend of the Soviet Union and I am not afraid to say so before all the press."
Each of the 11 Russians addressed the court briefly, reaffirming and regretting their guilt and promising to work for the best interests of Soviet Russia if accorded leniency. Anna Katusova, Monkhouse's secretary, aroused laughter when she said: "It is true, as alleged by the prosecutor, that I use paint and powder, but I am not going to give up this important assistance to women because I need it."
Ten hours are expected to elapse before the verdict is announced.

Vasko Informs Police Head Of His Whereabouts

"We Didn't Intend To Run Away" Vasko Tells Commissioner

MAY ACCEDE TO EYE OPERATION

Wanted Quiet And Peace Easter Sunday Parent Declares

(International News Service) HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON, N. Y., April 18.—Early this morning, the door bell at the home of Police Commissioner Frederick H. Charles rang loudly and long.

In pajamas and robe, the commissioner sleepily answered its summons.

At the door stood John Vasko, father of two-year-old Helen, whom a Westchester county court has ordered operated upon to remove a malignant tumor of the eye. Vasko, with his wife and children, left his home here Sunday and had not been located since.

Didn't Run Away
"We no run away," Vasko told the police commissioner. "We are good citizens. We entitled to peace, quiet. We wanted a quiet Easter Sunday. We no leave Hastings. My wife sick. My daughters sick and they have to be quiet around my home. Too many people there. Too many cameras. Too many lights."

Vasko explained to Charles he had gone to the home of a cousin, John Zababick, here to spend the week end. Last night, he said, he learned the authorities thought he had fled with his family from the jurisdiction of the court which ordered the operation for little Helen. Doctor who had examined the girl have said unless the malignant growth is removed from her eye it will spread and cause her death.

Vasko earnestly told the police head he had no intention of fleeing beyond the court's jurisdiction. He and his family, he promised, would return to their home later in the day.

Will Close Street
Charles, sympathetic, told Vasko he would arrange to close the street on which the Vaskos live to all except residents and those having legitimate business there.

Meantime, the appellate division of the supreme court pondered an appeal from the ruling of Judge George W. Smyth, who named a Westchester county welfare organization as Helen's guardian so the operation could be performed. The child's parents at first strenuously opposed the idea of an operation, but later Vasko said if the appellate division confirms Judge Smyth's decision he will permit surgeons to operate.

Following the departure of the Vaskos from their home Sunday, it was reported they had started for the vicinity of Pottsville, Pa., to stay with relatives. Until Vasko appeared at the police commissioner's home today, no trace of the family had been found since Sunday.

It is hoped that a good-sized number of teams will be on hand.

Neff To Resume Testimony Today In Murder Case

Defendant Appears Nervous And Voice Drops While On Stand At Youngstown

TELLS OF EARLY EVENTS OF LIFE

Claims Late Wife Always Helped Him With His Business

(International News Service) YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 18.—Cyrus H. Neff, testifying in his own defense for the slaying of his wife, today was to resume his testimony in common pleas court here.

Neff took the stand late yesterday and narrated incidents in his life. He appeared nervous and at times his voice dropped to almost a whisper. Court adjourned before his testimony reached his wife's death.

Courtroom Cleared
The defendant took the stand in a virtually deserted courtroom. All spectators were evicted during the noon recess on an order by Judge George H. Gessner, who is presiding. The order was handed down on a motion by Defense Attorney Clyde W. Osborne, filed after a burst of laughter by spectators at the answer to a question.

Judge Gessner had repeatedly warned against outbursts.

Attorneys, witnesses, reporters, and friends and relatives of attorneys were admitted by card after the court's decision.

On the stand, Neff told of two accidents of his early life. He testified how he ran into an oat pinder and nearly lost his leg. He lost the sight of one eye at the age of five when his brother threw a fork at him.

Were Devoted Couple
Divorcing his first wife, Neff said he married Mary Hennigh, a neighbor, in connection with his second marriage. Neff told of a "little jealous spell" between his wife and himself in 1931 but said that it was "fixed up."

"We certainly were devoted," Neff related. "We never quarreled." His wife always helped him in his business, he told the jury. Only once did he speak of his wife's death. He was asked when he had made a certain trip and he replied: "The day before the accident."

Closing of the court room to spectators marked the first time in Mahoning county court history that testimony in a murder trial has been taken behind closed doors.

EXCHANGE RULES ABROAD.
Stock market witnesses before the senate banking committee quite generally express themselves as horrified at the proposed new restrictions on security selling. Asked, however, whether they are stricter than European exchanges' rules, they invariably admit that rules in London, Paris and Berlin are far severer.

CARRIES ALL-BRAN ON EVERY VOYAGE

Seaman Finds This Delicious Cereal Relieves Constipation

Here is an unsolicited letter from Mr. Darragh:

"I have been going to sea for the past fourteen years. Every trip, I underwent severe headaches, nervousness, and sleeplessness. Tried all sorts of remedies, and received only temporary relief.

"So hearing about Kellogg's All-Bran cereal, I would get a box, which I did. That was six months ago, haven't been without it at home, and when I go to sea a box of Kellogg's All-Bran is always with me."—George D. Darragh, 1914 32nd Avenue, Oakland, California.

Tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things for common constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

How much pleasanter this is than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful. Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily will correct most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Death Of Infant At Erie Puzzles County Officials

Infant Found Beaten To Death In Crib, Parents Are Exonerated Of Blame

(International News Service) ERIE, Pa., April 18.—With no clues upon which to base any theory, authorities today turned to the possibility that an intruder had entered the home of Russell Smith the night of April 2 and killed 14-month-old Marjorie Smith in her crib.

A coroner's jury found the infant had been slain but did not place the blame.

Investigation of the intruder hypothesis was started after the parents testified at the coroner's inquest they frequently left the doors of their home open at night.

Friends who visited the Smith home the night of the killing said they left about 11:30 p. m. The baby was asleep at that time, they said.

Little Marjorie was found with her eyes blackened, both arms broken and her head and body beaten.

Roosevelt's Reforestation Plan Will Merely Help Conditions In Larger Cities

(International News Service) KANE, Pa., April 18.—Uncertainty over whether men from smaller communities ever will be given an opportunity to enroll in the reforestation corps arose today when L. L. It previously was announced that only men from cities would be enrolled first. Bishop's letter further stated:

"Thus far the reforestation corps program is a relief measure aimed to improve conditions in larger cities."

Seventeen cities have been designated to date, Bishop said.

Pinchot Interested In Local Man's Plan

Underwood Believes Mortgagors Should Receive Protection Under Law

People Of Limited Means
Are Losing Everything
They Own For Debts

Attorney E. M. Underwood of this city is in receipt of a letter from Governor Gifford Pinchot, answering a communication Mr. Underwood sent the Governor, calling the attention of the governor to the fact that Pennsylvania has no exemption law, in regard to debts.

As an attorney, he has found innumerable cases of where people have been forced to give up all of their possessions, and turn to charity when sold out for debts, losing their household possessions, clothes, etc.

Governor Pinchot states that he is giving searching attention to this problem and shall bear in mind the contention advanced by Mr. Underwood, that mortgagors should not be permitted to waive exemption on household furniture, wearing apparel and farm implements to the value of $300.

Mr. Underwood's letter, and the reply from the Governor follow: Honorable Gifford Pinchot, Harrisburg, Penn'a.

Dear Governor: I have just read your plea addressed to mortgagors and the Court to forbear as much as possible from foreclosure proceedings. Locally I believe few mortgages are being foreclosed except, as a matter of necessity. Many of the mortgages were made on the inflated values prior to 1930, and there is little hope that the property will ever be worth the amount of the mortgage.

The mortgagor is quite willing to convey, but where liens have been filed subsequent to the mortgage, the only way of making such a conveyance is through foreclosure. In many of the other foreclosures, the accumulated tax liens are largely destroying the security, and if anything is to be left for the mortgagor, he must foreclose.

I believe there is little privation caused by the ordinary mortgage foreclosure, but there is an incalculable amount of suffering, privation and misery caused by the fact, that practically Pennsylvania has no exemption law.

It is true, that there is an Act of Legislature allowing a debtor Three Hundred Dollars as his exemption, but the Courts have held that debtor might waive such an exemption. It is the almost universal practice in all leases, bonds, notes and other contracts for the payment of money, to require the debtor to waive his exemption. Even the printed form of the ordinary bank note contain such a waiver.

It has always seemed to the writer a most vain and useless thing for the Legislature to grant with one hand to the poor debtor a right to an exemption and with the other hand, take it away. This coupled with the power of the creditor contained in most all leases, bonds and notes to confess judgment and issue execution has created a condition that the writer does not believe exists in any other State of the Union, or in any enlightened country. To show the inequality of the law, salaries are absolutely exempt. The creditor may sell the last piece of furniture in a poor man's home, yet a man with a salary in any amount can defy his creditors.

I am sure that if you could but listen in for a few days at almost any attorney's office to the tales of suffering and misery following from this condition, you would be moved to use every influence of your high office to correct this condition.

The heart-rending part of the situation is, that as the law now stands, the attorney can do absolutely nothing, except, to refer the debtor to the poor authorities. Many of them have absolutely nothing, except the clothing on their back.

This is not an imaginary situation, but is a daily occurrence in nearly every County in the State. The remedy for same is wholly necessary is to give the head of every family an absolute exemption of household furniture, wearing apparel and farm implements to the value of $300.00, without the right of the debtor to waive same. It might be said that such a law would be unconstitutional, but in other states, it has been sustained as a matter of public policy.

This situation has always worked great hardship on the poor, but honest debtor in Pennsylvania, but under present conditions, this has been increased many fold. A man may lose his home, or farm, but if he can keep the furniture, or farm implements, he can still have hope, but when these are taken away, he has nothing left, but the poor farm.

I see there is a Bill now in the Legislature to allow chattel mortgages on crops and farm implements. If this be passed and approved, it will wholly destroy any benefit the farmers might secure under an absolute exemption. A farmer would have great difficulty in securing credit, except, by a chattel mortgage on his crops. The blight of such mortgages is fully illustrated by the conditions in many of the Southern states and that it should be suggested as a possible relief remedy for the farmer in Pennsylvania, is certainly remarkable.

Knowing your sympathy for the poor and unemployed, I am appealing to you to use your influence to secure a remedy for the conditions described above.

Yours, very truly,
E. M. UNDERWOOD

Mr. Edwin M. Underwood,
First National Bank Building,
New Castle, Penn'a.

Dear Mr. Underwood:

Many thanks for your courteous letter of March 28th.

I was keenly interested in your suggestion that the worst feature of the mortgage situation is the lack of adequate exemption laws. I am giving searching attention to this whole problem of foreclosures and I shall bear in mind your contention that mortgagors should not be permitted to waive exemption on household furniture, wearing apparel and farm implements to the value of $300.00.

Thank you also for your suggestions regarding chattel mortgages. With all good wishes and much appreciation.

Sincerely yours,
GIFFORD PINCHOT.

"Lodger's" Liquor Held For Rent Bill

(International News Service)
BEAVER, Pa., April 18.—Here's a novel excuse for possession of liquor.

Brought before Judge Frank E. Reader, Mrs. Grace Nye said the five gallons of moonshine officers found in her home had been left there by a lodger who had promised to return for it when he was able to meet his rent bill.

Judge Reader wasn't thoroughly impressed. He suspended jail sentence, but fined Mrs. Nye $50 and costs.

Old Prison Is To Be Abandoned Soon

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 18.—The eastern state penitentiary, better known to those familiar with its intricate confines as "Cherry Hill", may soon be abandoned and demolished.

"The city of losers" with its present population of 1,600 will migrate to the "big house" recently constructed—along modern stronghold lines—at Graterford, where 1,500 convicts are now imprisoned.

The jail merger will be culminated, it was said, just as soon as three cell blocks can be completed to supplement the eight cell blocks of 400 cells each already in use. Ultimately it is planned to give each convict a single cell.

Old Prison Is To Be Abandoned Soon

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 18.—The eastern state penitentiary, better known to those familiar with its intricate confines as "Cherry Hill", may soon be abandoned and demolished.

"The city of losers" with its present population of 1,600 will migrate to the "big house" recently constructed—along modern stronghold lines—at Graterford, where 1,500 convicts are now imprisoned.

The jail merger will be culminated, it was said, just as soon as three cell blocks can be completed to supplement the eight cell blocks of 400 cells each already in use. Ultimately it is planned to give each convict a single cell.

The abandoning of the Eastern penitentiary, according to an estimate made by Governor Gifford Pinchot's special prison committee, will save the commonwealth at least $300,000 annually.

Hitler Opponents All Labeled "Red"

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 18.—Adolph Hitler is "exaggerating the menace of communism" to further his own political ends, according to Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology, who recently returned from an extended tour in Europe.

"Hitler is no Mussolini and President Hindenburg is no King Emmanuel," Dr. Baker declared. "I think Hitler exaggerates the menace of communism. There is a feeling in Germany that the communists have no real leaders, but Hitler believes he must 'label' everybody not for him as a red."

Looted Camp To Get Western Togs

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., April 18.—Horace Greeley's famous advice, "Go West, young man," was followed with but little success by Wilfred Camp, 17, of Williamsport.

Camp, who was held here with Lehmanns Alexander, 20, and Chester Bair, 35, on a charge of looting two summer cabins of clothing, blankets, silverware and fishing tackle, told county authorities he stole in order to get an outfit together to go West.

Stolen Dog Knows Her Mistress' Face

PITTSBURGH, April 18.—For two weeks "Sally," a wire-haired terrier pup, scanned the faces of the strangers who gathered in front of a pet shop window to watch the antics of the animals. One day she spotted Mrs. Kenneth L. Arnold and let out a delighted bark of joy. Explanations followed. "Sally" had been stolen and sold to the pet shop owner. Mrs. Arnold bought back her pet.

PUT SILVER ISSUE UP TO WORLD CONFERENCE

Senate Leaves Remonetization To Conference

Expansion Of Currency Is Left Up To Economic Conference

SENATE DEFEATS 16 TO 1 PROPOSAL

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Remonetization of silver, with its attendant expansion of the currency, was left by the senate today to the American delegation at the coming world economic conference.

This course was followed by the senate in defeating the Wheeler plan, 33 to 43, for immediate remonetization of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. Administration leaders were able to defeat the plan, offered as an amendment to the pending farm relief bill, only after conference for a world agreement, they insisted the subject should be left to negotiation at the economic conference using silver as money.

Await Suggestion
The silverites shocked administration leaders by their senate strength despite a 56 to 18 defeat at the last session of congress and an announcement that President Roosevelt did not wish the money issue attached to the farm bill.

The vote indicated the senate was ready and willing to remonetize silver or inflate the currency by some other method at the least suggestion from Mr. Roosevelt. It appeared the inflationists have a clear majority in the senate, since such silverites as Borah, Carey, Bratton, Hayden and Kendrick, Connally, the gold inflationist, and Bankhead, an expansionist, were among the 43 voting against Wheeler's amendment. They did so, in order to let the silver issue be settled at the world parley.

Clarence Darrow Is 76 Years Old

Famous Attorney Born In Kinsman, Ohio, Does Not Fear Death

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 18.—Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, looked back over seventy-six turbulent and unrepented years today. Interviewed on his seventy-sixth birthday, the champion of the fallen said:

"Congratulate me on not having to stay in this fool world much longer."

Darrow was born in the obscure town of Kinsman, O. For half a century he has been an uncommon note in the world's drab symphony; his life has touched and affected the lives of scores of famous and infamous men and women.

Fights For Rights
The erasing years have let him mellow, humorous, fairly vigorous and mentally alert. He has been unyielding in his fight against the encroachment upon men's rights.

Looking forward, he has only one longing:
"All I hope for in the years to come is to eat, sleep, and read some fairly good books, meet my friends, just what's behind."

And when the end comes, he said as he sat in his comfortable apartment, he would have it as the poet sang:

"No folded hands on ritual—
I have slipped out of life's theater."

He smiled and added:
"I am not a sad man. Just because I don't believe I'm going to live in another world is no reason for being sad."

EXPECT ORDER OF SEEDS THIS WEEK

County Relief Board Awaits 3,000 Packets; Distribution Arranged

Approximately 3,000 packets of free garden seed should arrive in New Castle from Philadelphia late this week for distribution to needy folks of the county. Dr. G. S. Bennett, chairman of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief committee, announced today.

Orders for the seed were only recently placed.
Distribution headquarters, it is said, will be located in a room on East Washington street, above Croton, donated to the county committee for use this summer by John S. Wallace. At that room other seeds will be distributed from time to time.

Announcement of the arrival of the shipment will be made as soon as they reach here.
In the hopes of speeding up recruiting for Lawrence county's regiment of the "forest army," Dr. Bennett today wrote the state Emergency relief committee headquarters at Harrisburg. He urged that he be allowed to summon the quota of 250 men for the next six months as soon as possible.

Hold Palegorge On Arson Charge

Fire In Wampum Vicinity Results In Arrest Of R. D. 2 Man

Gust Palegorge, R. D. 2, Wampum, is held on a charge of arson in default of $3,000 bail in the county jail and will be given a hearing before Alderman James Bryce April 20. Palegorge was arrested by State Policeman Tenichek, County Detective H. M. Lee and Constable Talley, the latter of Wampum, following a fire which destroyed the home of Palegorge April 16.

The estimated value of the property is given at $4,000 and contents at $2,500. Insurance carried was $3,000. The state police and other investigating officers believe incendiary is responsible for the fire which occurred when no one was at home.

Production Control May Be Linked With Black 30-Hour Bill

Economic Advisers Of President Roosevelt Are Considering New Plans

Black 30-Hour Bill May Be Expanded Into Far-Reaching Measure Is Indicated

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Economic advisers of President Roosevelt are considering an attempt to link partial control of industrial production with the Black 30-hour week bill.

The subject has not only been given careful consideration by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins but members of congress have been informed that other important figures in the administration believe the step must be taken.

Far-Reaching Measure
The 30-hour week bill, now exclusively before the house as a result of the senate's refusal to reconsider it, thus may be expanded into the most far-reaching measure of the present session.

Controlled or planned industrial production, congressional students of the labor question said today, is consistent with the views publicly expressed by President Roosevelt.

In his message on Muscle Shoals he pointed to the lack of economic planning in the building of America's far-flung industrial system. The farm relief bill recommended by the administration also contains the most ambitious plan of restricting agricultural production ever presented to congress.

Control Of Production
The possibility of increased efficiency of workers resulting from the five-day week also has stirred interest in control of production.

Chairman Connery (D) Massachusetts, of the labor committee has called a meeting for tomorrow to consider a report on the Black measure.

Although Connery says he will fight the bill on the floor unless it contains an embargo on importation of foreign goods not produced on the short work week, administration leaders say the bill may pass without this provision.

Sunday Fishing Bill Is Defeated

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 18.—The Hoopes bill, which would have permitted fishing on Sunday in Pennsylvania boundary waters was defeated by a 24 to 20 vote in the senate today. It had passed the house overwhelmingly. The bill would have limited Sabbath fishing to the Delaware river and Lake Erie.

Attempt Made To Get Down Into Latter Store From Roof Above It

Robbers, evidently the same gang, who managed to force an entrance into the Travers Poolroom on East Washington street, also tried to gain an entrance into the Richman Brothers store.

At the poolroom, the thieves damaged the cigarette machine and other things they found in the place.

Then the attempt to enter the clothing store was made by cutting a hole in the floor of the second floor immediately above the clothing store. They were unsuccessful in making the necessary hole to get down into the store.

Sister Ship To Ill-Fated Akron Will Not Go Up Before Wednesday

WEATHER TODAY IS UNFAVORABLE

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., April 18.—Earthbound by unfavorable weather. The U. S. S. Macon, sister ship of the dirigible Akron, will not soar away on its maiden flight before sunrise Wednesday. Commander Alger Drael, skipper of the new air craft, announced today.

Although skies over Akron were clear today, a low pressure area prevailed from here to the Pacific coast. Lt. Anthony Danis, aerological officer of the Macon, told International News Service. With barometric pressure at present levels, sudden thunderstorms are common, he said, and might handicap the dirigible on its trial flight over Cleveland and Lake Erie.

Postponement of the Macon's trial flight was the fifth since announcement of the scheduled "shakedown" cruise.

Mrs. Fauzey was almost to the center of the street, when she stopped; then started back to the point from which she had been coming. In doing so, she stepped directly in front of the Nixon car, the left front bumper of which hit and knocked her to the ground.

She was picked up and placed in the Nixon car and removed to her home and a physician called. It was found that she had escaped serious injury although suffering from a number of bruises.

Grove City Not To Carry Utility Battle To Superior Court

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, April 18.—Grove City's council voted last night not to appeal its gas rate case against the Union Heat & Light company to the Pennsylvania superior court. The state's public service commission, in a decision handed down recently, refused to grant the borough's plea that a monthly service charge of 60 cents be abolished and that its gas rate be lowered. The gas company, after the commission was appealed, posted a new table of rates.

Grove City's action will likely close the case so far as the boroughs of Volant, New Wilmington, Sandy Lake and Stoneboro are concerned, since Grove City is the largest consumer borough. At least that belief prevailed here today.

Angry wrestling fans last night surged into an Akron ring and stopped the main bout between Leo Alexander and Bearcat Jones, heavyweight. Alexander had wedged Jones between the ropes and help him gasping for breath. The crowd freed Jones from his precarious position while police calmed the riot and persuaded the 1300 fans to return to their seats and let the show go on. After Jones regained his wind he returned to wrestle with Alexander but lost the match.

Pittsburgh fans turned out last night to greet Max Schmeling and Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champions. Jack proved the idol of the hour. Schmeling had Sergeant Bill Higgins on a knee at the end of the round. The Teuton then took on Gus Rodenberg and Gus took two counts in the second and last round. In the main bout, Dempsey stopped the fight between Alabama Kid and Carl Montebano in the fourth round as Montebano was all in.

The heroes, Pete Fox, Detroit outfielder whose homer with two on base in the tenth inning gave Detroit an 8 to 5 victory over Chicago, and outfielder Johnny Watwood, whose catch on Goslin's long liner after a hard run broke up a Washington rally in the eighth inning and saved the game for the Boston Red Sox.

The goat, Luke Appling, White Sox shortstop. His boot of a grounder in the tenth inning set the stage for Fox's homer.

Rookies Start Hitting Ball

Rookies This Year Better Than Usual And May Replace Veteran Players

INDIANS BEATEN BY BROWNS 4 TO 3

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 18.—Due to economic conditions which prevent major league baseball clubs from carrying idlers on their rosters, rookies are being included in this year's "new deal." Instead of being parked in the dugout for several months to pick up splinters and the finer points of the game, more than a dozen first-year men have been sent directly to the firing line—and most of them are making good.

Ervin (Pete) Fox of Detroit, for instance, smashed a homer with two men on base in the tenth inning yesterday to give the Tigers an 8 to 5 decision over the White Sox. A few valiant like that and the slugger from the Texas League will be able to add another "X" to his last name.

Rookies Hit Hard

Fox, White, Owen and other youngsters have put new pep into the Detroit club. Their hitting enabled the Tigers to come from behind yesterday after Chicago had knocked Vic Sorrell out of the box and scored five runs in the first inning.

White, a second-year man, is hitting .600. Fox is batting .335 and Owen .211. Averages of other first year men in the big show are: Madjeski, Athletics, .500; Leiber, Giants, .400; Cihochki, Athletics, .300; Johnson, Athletics, .294; Knickerbocker, Cleveland, .222; Higgins, Athletics, .154; and Finney, Athletics, .133.

Three rookie pitchers—Walter Beck of Brooklyn, "Schoolboy" Rowe of Detroit and Don Brennan of the Yankees—have started games and each came through with a victory.

Crowder Stopped

The Boston Red Sox chalked up their first victory of the season by defeating Washington, 4 to 2. General Alvin Crowder, who won fifteen straight games at the close of the 1932 season and started the present campaign with a victory last week, was the victim.

Henry Johnson, Boston's starting pitcher, was yanked in the eighth inning although he had been touched for only three hits. Johnson, Rhodes and Andrews, all ex-Yankees, have pitched good ball for Boston in the past week and will lift the Sox out of the American League cellar if their mates can drive a few runs across the plate.

Indians Beaten

The St. Louis Browns also broke into the win column for the first time by beating Cleveland 4 to 3, with Bump Hadley holding the Indians to three hits. The third Cleveland's first setback of the season, dropped the Indians into second place behind the Yankees.

No other games were played. Eighteen of the 46 games scheduled in the first six days of the season have been postponed because of unfavorable weather. Several clubs will squawk loud and long if an attempt is made to start next year's schedule as early as April 12. The Giants and Braves have been particularly hard hit. Each has played only one game and has six double-headers piled up, in addition to the regular holiday twin bills.

BERLIN, April 18.—Commenting on hints of a boycott of Germany in the next Olympic games, Dr. Carl Diem, secretary of the German Olympic committee, denied today that race discrimination existed in the Reich.

Diem's statement was elicited by a letter from Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic committee, to the Baltimore Jewish Times in which he expressed the "personal, unofficial opinion" that the Olympic games will not be held in any country where equality of all races is interfered with.

"The people of all countries and all races are welcome in Germany," Dr. Diem said. "There is no discrimination whatever."

(Special To The News)

Woods Will Be In Hawaii For One More Year

Sam Woods Writes From Pearl Harbor—Tells Of Buying Used Car

You pay and pay and pay if you would own an automobile on the territory of Hawaii.

Sam Woods, a member of the dental corps of the U. S. Navy, purchased an old used car there this month, paid about $25 for it, but after he had paid license, tax, insurance and repair bills on it, it cost him over $75.

In a letter to his parents, dated April 4 from the U. S. Naval Hospital, Pearl Harbor, T. H., young Woods stated that the license fee is one dollar, while every car must carry insurance amounting to about $21. On top of that is a penny tax for every pound the vehicle weighs. Sam's car tipped the scales at 1420.

Woods will be in Hawaii for another year. He mentions that he works with two very nice doctors and that all the officers are a very agreeable sort and treat the men much different than do those in the states.

The rainy season has been in progress here for sometime but is about over now. Tennis and golf are the popular sports just now.

Police Get Clew On Kidnapers

Six Chieftans Of Capone Gang Are Seized In Chicago In Factor Case

FATHER IS TOLD HIS SON IS SAFE

Police Believe Iowa Band Of Kidnapers Abducted Jerome Factor

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 18.—Seizure of six chieftans of the Capone gang while acting as an underworld "detective bureau" today designated a downstate Illinois and Iowa band of kidnapers as the abductors of Jerome Factor, 19 year old son of John "Jake the millinaire barber" Factor, multi-millionaire stock promoter.

The arrest of the Capone leaders uncovered the first definite clew to the identity of the kidnapers who last Wednesday seized the youth and are holding him for $50,000 ransom.

Son Is Safe

The kidnapers sent word to factor at midnight that his son is safe and is being held out of town. The promoter, following telephoned instructions, met a youth in the hotel lobby who said he was Bernard Moid, 19. He told Factor that a man had met him on the street and instructed him to carry the message to the father.

Enlisted by Factor to act as go-between in the $50,000 ransom negotiations, the gang leaders were arrested by a police raiding squad as they were conversing by telephone with the stock promoter from their suite in a Michigan boulevard hotel.

Treser's Cat-Rat Story "True Bill"

No Reason Why Tool House Story Should Not Be Accepted Everywhere

A jury composed of one newspaper reporter, one former city councilman and one assistant city engineer came to a decision Monday that Stan Treser's famous "Cat-Bread-Rat" story is a "true bill."

A closed inquest was conducted at 11 o'clock in the street commissioner's office, Croton avenue. It came as a result of certain somebodies in New Castle and other somebodies out of New Castle guffawing at a story which recently appeared in "The News." Councilman Treser was quoted in "The News" article as saying that he saw a cat and a rat eating from the same crust of bread in the city tool house.

The principals in the case, with the exception of the cat and rat in question, were at the inquest. Street Commissioner Harry M. Moore and Councilman Treser were put on the stand. They told their stories and stuck right to them. Said it was John S. Brown's cat from the feed store next door, and the tool house's own half grown rat. The cat was kept by the Brown's to keep rats away. The bread crust incident occurred directly inside the tool house. Jack White and several others witnessed it, in addition to Treser and Moore.

After hearing both witnesses, the News representative, former councilman Clayton Reeves and Assistant City Engineer Harry G. Hoskins decided that there is no reason why the story should be accepted in the best of circles.

Steady Tone In Stock Market

Steel Stocks Are Well Supported—American Can Improves

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 18.—The stock market today showed a steadier tone after the reactionary tendencies of the last two days but the trend was highly irregular.

Utilities and silver stocks were heavy, the latter reflecting the defeat of the 16 to 1 bill in the Senate yesterday. Industrials were mixed while sugar shares were strong.

Trading was quiet. The dollar suffered another sinking spell but this time it was not followed by an inflationary activity in stocks and commodities were mixed, wheat and corn declining and cotton recovering about half of yesterday's break of $1 a bale.

American Telephone slipped fractionally to a new low for the year but displayed a steadier tone after its sharp break in the last two days. Consolidated Gas was a weak spot on dividend uncertainty.

Silver stocks showed losses running to more than a point in the first hour but scored some recovery later. Great Western Sugar went to a new high, leading the sugar shares upward.

McKeesport Tin Plate was strong in the specialties while American Can improved. U. S. Steel common and preferred continued to be supported by the optimism of Myron C. Taylor, chairman, at yesterday's annual meeting.

Rails were heavy despite the uptrend in car loadings. Last week General Motors was active but failed to break out of a narrow range. Other automobile shares were steady. Oils and coppers were quiet.

Cut Millage For Ellwood

Council Reduces Tax Rate One Mill At Special Session Last Night

SOME REDUCTIONS MADE IN SALARIES

ELLWOOD CITY, April 18.—Following up the recommendation of the Ellwood City Tax Payers League the local borough council made a one mill cut in their tax assessment for next year, a reduction from ten mills to nine, at a special meeting in the city building last night.

The millage was set at 7 1/2 for the city and 1 1/2 for library purposes. Upon motion of Councilman M. A. Riley, a member of the finance committee, the rules of the council were suspended and the new budget was accepted and passed on the first and final reading.

The other recommendation of the Tax Payers League of maintaining the present tax collection system, only with the payments extended over a period of nine months was referred to the finance committee.

In a special statement issued this morning Councilman G. H. Morrison, chairman of the finance committee, explained some of the matters on how council was able to make the one mill cut.

Acting on the recommendations of the Tax Payers League in a different manner council reduced salary of the janitor in the borough building; reduced the salary of the borough clerk; and combined the health officer job with that of fire chief. Then placing the sum of $3,600 which was realized from renting the Central school building to the local school district, into the budget, council was able to make the one mill cut.

Mr. Morrison strictly denied the salaries of policemen and remained in the borough offices were subjected to another cut.

With this in effect council has made a total reduction of six mills in two years in the millage.

Clean-Up Week Is Planned In Ellwood

Council To Conduct Campaign In General Clean-up Of City Soon

ELLWOOD CITY, April 18.—With authorization by the local council at a special meeting held in the city building last night, Burgess Judd C. Turner, Borough Manager L. W. Monroe, and the street committee of council are making arrangements to hold a clean-up week in Ellwood City in which the town will be given a good general once-over.

If plans of this group comes to a head the clean-up week will be held on the week of April 24. Each day of the week will be devoted to one phase of clearing up such as highways and streets, forestry, flies and mosquitos, and junk. As in past years the borough will probably provide trucks to haul away the rubbish free of charge to local citizens.

In connection with this work the street committee headed by Clyde B. Houk was delegated to look into a condition on Wampum avenue which lacked a sidewalk and compelled people to walk out onto the road in order to keep from traversing through mud. Burgess Turner recommended that either a sidewalk be made there or the place be ashed. The present condition makes it dangerous for school children.

Upon suggestion of Councilman William McGilney the committee will also look into the matter of moving two poles on Wampum avenue near Runyan's service station, which at present are situated well on the sidewalk.

Of another condition on Eighth street and Park avenue council felt that there was no need of a sidewalk at present and would be a spending of money unnecessarily.

Lights Turned On Following Protest

Merchants Plead Before Council To Keep All Lights On Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, April 18.—Shortly following a protest and plea of the Ellwood City merchants before the borough council last night at a special meeting in the city building, all lights in the city's white way were once again turned on.

The merchants led by J. I. Porter and Ralph Bloese, chairman of the merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce presented their case. They had pointed out that they had paid for the installation of the lights and would like to see them turned on again. Mr. Porter pointed out that council had little to gain from this step since the merchants had been planning to shut their window lights off and thus shut much revenue from the borough. Mr. Porter also stated that Ellwood City had one of the finest white-ways for a small town that he had ever seen and added greatly to the beauty of the city. "What we want to know is the advisability of this move," stated Mr. Porter. "If it is necessary we will gladly go along with you."

Mr. Bloese and Michael Edelman also added their plea to Mr. Porter's in restoring the lights.

In reply to this President of Council J. E. Powell stated that the dimming of certain lights had only been an experiment, prompted by a recommendation of the Tax Payers League of this city as an economy measure. Council has always been in sympathy with the merchants' plan in restoring the lights.

Army Forces To Be Reduced By Appropriations

Slash of $144,000,000 in War
Department Causes Personnel Reduction

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 18.—A cloud of gloom hung over the army today as it awaited President Roosevelt's action on the $144,000,000 slash in war department appropriations demanded by the bureau of the budget.

Secretary of War Dern's statement that the slash would necessitate a reduction of army personnel by from 2,000 to 3,000 officers and 12,000 to 15,000 enlisted men had the army particularly upset.

Veteran officers declared it would demoralize the army and cause the cessation of all civilian activities.

The army it was pointed out, already is smarting under what it considers the injustice of the reforestation scheme, whereby the men working in the camps receive $30 per month while the regular enlisted men of the army who are called upon to aid in supervising administration will receive only about $17 per month under the recent 15 per cent pay slash.

Rivers and Harbors Cut
Now another $90,000,000 has been ordered cut out of the $271,000,000 war department appropriation for military expenses. The balance of $54,000,000 ordered slashed applies to non-military and civilian expenditures, including rivers and harbors allotments, which come under the war department.

The proposal to suspend all rivers and harbors allotments under the economy cut was expected to bring forth a deluge of protests throughout the country. These expenditures, army engineers pointed out, form part of reconstruction work to relieve unemployment.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Car owners on the far end of East Washington Street are going to be without the use of their garage for a few days, and don't mind it much at that. The job of replacing the pavement out there is on in earnest, with long gaping stretches of the street torn up. And during the time when the bricks are up, cars are going to be parked in alleys or out on the other side of the street.

Any improvement that is worth a thing carries a little inconvenience with it and the minor inconvenience of being blocked out of a garage for a couple of days is a small price to pay for a street that is not liable to break a couple of springs.

The folks in the Adams Street sector are in higher hopes now that Lake Adams will be removed. A little raising here and there and the pond will be eliminated. And laundry bills on wet days will be cut down no end.

The travelling correspondent of this column, Harold Baer, is home again after setting at least one record, every port at which he stopped. His itinerary called for three things at each port, first a card, then some lunch and then some sight seeing.

After seeing the world from the top of Gibraltar, after the sights of North Africa, of Spain and Italy and Madeira, after travelling across Europe by land, he still thinks New Castle has a trifle on the rest of the world.

The trip wasn't a quest for beauty primarily but you can't stop a fellow taking a quick look, and after a couple of quick looks in half a dozen countries, Baer reports that he didn't see a good looking girl until he got to Vienna.

Note for hunters. Deer in the Slippery Rock valley seem to be increasing. Down around the Harris and Armstrong bridges five or six of them have been seen in the past few weeks. If they could be left alone for years, that long drive to Medix Run and the other deer hunting points north would be eliminated and we could have our own hunting right here at home.

Got an interesting letter in poetry today from down Patoma way. Harry Powell of New Castle, who is a member of B Company, 11th Engineers is stationed at Corozal, Canal Zone, down where the coconuts and mangoes and monkeys and snakes are everyday sights.

Some poetical soldier (and there's always a lot of poetical soldiers) sat himself down one night and unbanned a poem of 29 stanzas, which makes up the letter. If it wasn't so long it might be published, but we wouldn't have that much poetry type in one galley.
